FOREWORD

00

FOR more than a decade the firm of Carvalho Brothers was one of the foremost houses in New York which specialized in antique fabrics. In January of this year the New York branch of the firm was closed and its extensive stock was sold in these galleries. The sale was attended by collectors from all parts of the country each eager to avail himself of that rare opportunity to obtain examples of the finest antique fabrics.

As a sequel to that important sale the Plaza Art Rooms now offers to the public an equally fine collection of antique fabrics which represent the entire European stock of Carvalho Brothers.

In both extent and quality this sale parallels the first and includes an even finer group of the rare Spanish Needlework Rugs. These needlework rugs are extremely rare and valuable. They are very much sought after by European Museums and Collectors and the present collection patiently gathered by Carvalho Brothers is one of the finest ever assembled. In addition to these, fine examples of Spanish, Portuguese French and Italian fabrics of the Gothic and Renaissance periods, including wall hangings, vestments, draperies and smaller pieces will be sold. The fabrics include velvets, damasks, embroideries and appliques.

Carvalho Brothers have enjoyed the highest reputation among museums and collectors and the museums in New York, Boston and Detroit, among others, have purchased many fine fabrics from this firm. The name of the house is a guarantee of high quality and this sale should give collectors an opportunity to secure valuable fabrics as seldom are offered at auction.
